Fullstack JavaScript Developer

We are:

Wix's Frontend Engineering group with an engineering culture that embraces cutting-edge technologies, TDD, performance and clean code for our highly scalable systems that support Wix's over 100 million users. We work in small teams, follow agile work methods and use continuous integration and continuous delivery methodologies to run quickly while maintaining the high quality of our product.

You are:

An ambitious, experienced Backend Developer with JavaScript experience who's excited at the prospect of entering the world of Frontend. You're fluent in server-side technologies (NodeJS, Java, .NET, Python, Ruby), and you're an expert in databases such as MongoDB, MySQL, Cassandra, etc. If you have experience in Test Driven Development (TDD) and Continuous Delivery, that's a bonus.

You're also a self-learner who is independent but a great team player!

As a Fullstack JavaScript Developer, you will:

- Become a frontend master as part of our amazing Frontend Engineering team.
- Improve your skills and learn from top-notch engineers.
- Tackle tough problems and find creative ways to solve them.
- Push your code to millions of users every day.
- Work on cutting-edge technologies and become an industry leader.
- Write TDD and clean code.
