

QA Engineer

AudioCodes is an advanced VoIP, Data networking, Call Recording products and Solutions Company.

We are a dynamic engineering department that designs and develops AudioCodes Call Recording solutions and offers a chance to discover the world of VoIP and challenge with a variety of interesting tasks.

We are looking for a long-term relationship with a graduated SW Engineer who is passionate to investigate, learn and implement new technologies, as well as be happy to go beyond the immediate job description to help out where needed.

Responsibilities:

- Follow QA and the department's engineering processes
- Create and maintain test cases and test plans
- Extend, improve and maintain manual, automatic, integration, functional and performance testing
- Increase testing efficiency by implementing end to end automatic testing where is applicable
- Assist to product's support by customer issues reproduction
- Take part in DevOps tasks: Cont. Integration, Virtual Lab, Cloud Env. , Installer, etc.

Required skills and experience:

- Excellent development skills using scripting and high-level programming languages like C#, C++, Java...
- Systems thinking and good analytical skills
- Excellent Self Learning skills
- Creativity
- Excellent analytical and troubleshooting skills utilizing product logs, network capture, Windows tools
- Basic familiarity with setting up physical and virtual environments: Windows, VmWare\Hyper-V, Network...
- Excellent English communication skills

Desired:

- Experience with manual, automatic, integration, functional and performance testing
- Background in networking and VoIP protocols
- MySQL or other DB experience
- Background in web based application development\testing

Education Required:

BS in Computer Science/Telecommunications Engineering